

REMEMBERING From the Musical BILLY

Music by JOHN BARRY
Lyric by DON BLACK

Moderately

Chorus:

Do you re-mem-ber how love-ly it was When he was a lit-tle
I can re-mem-ber those small pa-per planes And that co-co-nut he

Verse:

lad? _____ Kick-ing a tin, graz-ing a shin, Oh, what a won, _____ Foot-balls and bats, crack-ers and hats, Why, we were

Bridge:

grand time we had! _____ Do you re-mem-ber that snow-man he made And the proud of our son, _____ I can re-mem-ber his first day at school You

Chorus:

tree that he used to climb? _____ Boats in the sink, hands full of ink, cried for a week, you know, _____ Was-n't it fun rais-ing a son?

Verse:

That Moth-er Goose pan-to-mime? Ah, but look at the bug-ger now, me pet,
It's a shame he had to grow, 'Cos just look at our Bil-ly now, me love,

Chorus:

Look at the bug-ger now! _____ A sil-ly half ha-peth, a blood-y dumb oaf, As mad as a hat-ter, as Look at our Bil-ly now! _____ It's hard to be-lieve he's our own flesh and blood, I can tell you his back-side could daft as a loaf! What's all this soft twad-dle you keep on a-bout? A blood-y great na-na is how he's turned out do with a thud! I still can't get used to his hab-its my pet, Nor me ei-ther, Geof-frey; He talks blood-y wet! There's lots to re-mem-ber And a blood-y sight more to for-get!

Bridge:

Chorus:

Copyright © 1974 by Winmor Music, Inc. Used by permission.

